

JASON THACKSTON

Vice President ,
Finance
Avista Corp.

Jason Thackston is vice president, finance, for Avista Corp. He is responsible for financing and capital activities, including oversight of banking relations, the capital structure of the corporation, pension assets and future corporate financings. In addition, Thackston's responsibilities include the areas of corporate development, investor relations, risk management, and planning and analysis.

Thackston joined Avista in 1996 and has held leadership positions in energy resources, resource accounting and financial planning.

He holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from Whitworth University with a major in international studies and business management. Thackston earned his Master of Business Administration degree from Gonzaga University. He serves on the boards of the YMCA of the Inland Northwest, the Northwest Business Development Association and the Business Development Corporation of Eastern Washington.